

GUS Newsletter

June - July 2012

GUS often received invitations from other parties to join in environmental awareness activities. Recently GUS participated in Bali's Big Eco Weekend by Coca-Cola at Kuta Beach on July 7.

On Education Activities:

- Final "Jambore Sanitasi" Competition
- Education project with IAA

GUS Education Project

JAMBORE SANITASI

A series of poster contest, writing on Sanitation issues was carried out in collaboration between GUS and Satker PLP PU Bali, followed by a presentation from the finalists on June 5, 2012. The winners became Bali's ambassadors on Jambore Sanitasi Nasional in Jakarta at the end of June 2012.

SMP SUNARI LOKA KUTA

The education program was initiated by I'm an Angel. GUS started to join on June 11, 2012 which then continued after school holidays on July 25.

organization initiated to implement the school's waste sorting and monitor the day-to-day practice.

GUS met the OSIS of SMP Sunari Loka Kuta

GUS focus is to educate and assist the students to manage their own waste. In the early stages, OSIS as the official students or-

This initiative will be evaluated by IAA and GUS to determine the next step for school's waste management.

Waste sampling activity at Desa Culik

While maintain communication with the people of Desa Culik, GUS continues to determine the waste characteristic. The objective of recent waste sampling was to assess the economic value of the village's plastic waste. The government of Karangasem Regency issued a policy that they would purchase any plastic waste at a price of Rp. 1000, - / kg.

Culik's Waste Management

BEACH CLEAN UP PROJECT

GUS support to maintain the cleanliness and preservation of Bali's beaches in many ways. GUS supports Rip Curl Cup Padang-Padang with toilet, and also support The Magic Wave Billabong Grommet Series 2012.